March 26, 2020

Honourable Court,

On March 2, 2020, Mr. Gleeson of the Federal Court made an Order that the proceeding be held in abeyance, and that a case management conference be requested within 14 days of a final disposition of an Application for Leave in the Supreme Court of Canada. There are several clerical errors with respect to this order, and the plaintiff hereby request that the Court correct them, pursuant Rule 397 (2):

1. The proceeding is not presently under case management. It is a clerical error to mandate a case management teleconference when the proceeding is not case managed.
2. There is no request pending for the proceeding to continue as a specially managed proceeding.
3. The Order references no Federal Court Rule authorizing Mr Gleeson to make an order at this time. Mr. Gleeson does not have the authority to order the action held in abeyance. (Ie, there is no corresponding Rule or provision of the Federal Courts Act stating a judge may at any time order that a proceeding be held in abeyance, or wording to this effect. In other words, can a judge make any arbitrary order, if the Act and the Rules do not give him the power? For instance, can he order you to jump off a building? Without reference a Rule or a statutory provision that gives him the power to make such an order, it is a clerical error to make such an order)
4. The plaintiff does not intend at this time to pursue an Appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada, and therefore holding the proceeding in abeyance pending the outcome of an appeal is a logical impossibility, since there is no appeal.

The plaintiff requests the Honourable Court:

1. Lift the stay of the proceeding on the basis that it is ill-ordered, not pursuant the Rules of the Court or any Act of Parliament, and,
2. Determine the Summary and Amendment motions without delay.

Sincerely,
