Product Details

In the late 1960s, the Defense Logistics Agency had over 165 million ounces of Silver in its stockpile. The government dumped the Silver into the open market in 1980 and 1981 to drive down Silver prices after the Hunt brothers tried to corner the market.

Round Highlights:

- Contains 1 oz of .999 fine Silver.
- Individual rounds come in protective packaging.
- Obverse: Features the American flag and an Eagle within a wreath along with the weight and purity.
- Reverse: Displays the words, "Minted From U.S. Strategic Stockpile Silver" and "Formerly Stored at U.S. Assay Office in San Francisco."
- Secondary Market Silver could be perfect, scruffy or somewhere in between.

Protect your rounds from fingerprints by adding these cotton gloves to your order.

These rounds are all dated 1981, these rounds are over 30 years old and so it is expected that these may have some tarnishing, dings, and scratches. Own a piece of history by adding this 1 oz Silver round to your cart today!
