WEST FARGO, ND – Today, West Fargo native and businessman Christopher Olson announced his candidacy for the North Dakota House of Representatives in District 13.

I'm a North Dakota native and I grew up in District 13 in West Fargo. My wife Lisa and I have been married for over 13 years, and have just been blessed with our 5th child. We are active members of Community Baptist church in Fargo and are committed to the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

I'm an Army veteran, a family man and a successful entrepreneur. Professionally, I serve as CEO of Treasure Island Coins, Inc., a coin and precious metal dealer located in Fargo started by my father in 1976, a year before I was born. I'm also the owner of Dakota Depository LLC, a secure precious metals storage facility in Fargo, serving clients globally.

In my previous role as operations manager, and since becoming CEO of Treasure Island in 2008, I have learned first hand how absolutely necessary it is for an organization to know what it is doing, why it is doing it, and to operate profitably, efficiently, and to live within its means. By doing this, our company has grown from a small coin shop with 4 employees to a national dealer of precious metals, rare coins, and dollar transactions with 26 employees right here in Fargo.

My view of government is very simple, practical and is grounded in the self-evident truth that all political power is inherent in the people. Our State Constitution is based on these very words, and the founders of this government understood clearly that government is instituted for the protection, security and benefit of the people.

If elected, I'll stay true to these principles, bringing also a worldview that has a clear view of what is right and what is wrong, and why it matters. I will not blur the lines, nor will I remain silent when others would do so, in any branch or level of our local or national governments.

My commitment to you as a public servant is to do what's best for your family -- to put North Dakota families first.
